

Plan for Faculty Selection and Development

Faculty Selection

All appointments to SABER shall be made according to merit and fitness. Merit and fitness may be ascertained by the SABER Employment Application Form, a resume of the applicant including copy of degree, official transcripts, and pertinent licenses when required, and interviews which shall relate to those matters which will test fairly the capacity and fitness of the candidates to discharge efficiently the duties of the position for which the interviews are held.

These interviews may take into consideration such factors as education, experience, aptitude, knowledge, character, physical fitness, or any other qualifications or attributes which in the judgment of the Program Directors enter into the determination of the relative fitness of the applicant.

Notices of job vacancies will be regularly advertised in the following: Any technological means that will make accessible the available position(s) to the members of the community.

Faculty Development

Each instructor will develop, implement and complete annually an individualized Professional Growth Plan. The plan will be developed in collaboration with the program directors. This development will include a self-assessment instrument, a minimum of eight hours per year of professional development and development in emerging technologies.

The institution provides appropriate training for faculty who use technology in distance education courses and programs.
